

Couple's retreat. 6 days, €2195,00

Really seeing, understanding, connecting and communicating with each other again. The Couples retreat is meant out to find out in your own way what it takes to make your relationship work.

What do you need? What does your partner need and how will you bring this together? Any motivation to do this together is good. We can guide you and take you towards your goal. Included in this retreat are one individual session per person and two relationship sessions for the two of you.

You set the goal for yourself as individuals and for you two as a couple, we provide the tools to achieve this goal. Whether you want to deepen the connection or look at an issue between you and work towards a solution; we work in a tailor-made way and flow with your intention. We start with an exploration of the common theme, you are with up to 3 other couples and you will learn with and from each other while there is plenty of space for you as a couple and for you as an individual. You could say that the group process supports you and you as you walk your path as a couple.
